

Kasondra Cohen-Herrendorf and JJ Wilson, both of Face of Today

Grant Lockhart with his wife, Rebecca

Host Jacqui Cohen and Rob Menard

L to R: Christie King of Face the World Foundation, Eleu Kruse and Christina Kiesel

Richard Coglion and his wife, Heidi

A NOVEL OCCASION

For 23 years, philanthropist and Army & Navy president Jacqui Cohen has drawn a stunning crowd to her home for her annual Face the World Foundation gala. This year was no exception. Best-selling novelist Jackie Collins and legendary performers the Temptations joined more than 200 social luminaries for the black-tie party. Cocktails and canapés poolside had guests soaking up the sun before sitting down to an impressive dinner by Harry Kambolis and C Restaurant. An impromptu auction item from Jackie – who offered to add a character to an upcoming novel – got bidding paddles flying. Afterwards at the off-the-charts house party, the Temptations kept the crowd on their feet till the wee hours. The event raised more than $1 million for Face the World, which helps a range of great causes in Vancouver. — NICOLE HARVIE IN VANCOUVER

Author Jackie Collins

Frank Palmer and his wife, Marika